

ARE YOU DOING IT RIGHT?

Are you struggling to get the most out of your business system? If you are unsure what IT support you need, where to get it and who to trust, it's time to consult the friendly experts at iBridge

Effective business systems are the life blood of any modern company. If they work well they'll help to boost your performance and profits.

If your system isn't fulfilling your needs, you require solutions to IT problems, or you need to start from scratch with a bespoke system, iBridge offers a refreshingly honest, straight forward and personal service.

"We start by asking simple questions, 'what are you actually trying to do?' or 'what is it that your business is short of?' This helps us to explain the different options, the associated costs and then deliver affordable solutions," said iBridge technical director Simon Cranmer.

Every business has different IT needs, some requiring complex systems and maintenance contracts, others require less ambitious systems. All companies need to be able to trust their supplier.

"We are open and honest from the outset, explaining things as carefully and thoroughly as we can. We can also provide specific training," said commercial manager Lisa Fenwick. "We offer complete IT solutions, anything from a single broken PC in an office to disaster recovery or full e-commerce systems."

If cost is an issue, they will do as little or as much as you can afford, or work with you to create an affordable payment plan.

Sign up to iBridge and you'll have virtual IT experts on-hand whenever you need them. Whether you are a sole trader or a company employing hundreds of staff, it's more cost effective than running your own IT department.

"It's a big step from being basically familiar with a computer to solving problems and introducing systems which help your business perform better. That's where we come in and we are here for you 24/7," added Simon. ■
